

Jeremy Ancalade, Vice President of Finance & Administration

Jeremy Ancalade has dedicated his career to the nonprofit sector, working with organizations devoted to service and community building. As Vice President of Finance and Administration, Jeremy oversees DLBA's internal business functions, staffing DLBA's Executive, Governance, Finance and Audit Committees, leading administration, human resources, and finance. In the community, Jeremy serves as Board President for Shanti Orange County, Board Treasurer for ONE Institute, and volunteers with the American Legion's California Boys and Girls State program.

Prior to joining DLBA, Jeremy served as Laguna Playhouse's Chief Financial Officer where he navigated the historic, century-old Equity theatre through the Covid-19 pandemic shutdown. Jeremy has also served as Project Angel Food's Finance Director; General Manager of the Shakespeare Center of Los Angeles; and Vice President of Operations for The Trevor Project, where he led national suicide prevention operations and advocated for change during one of the most dynamic times for LGBTQ people in American history.

Jeremy holds MBA and MFA degrees from California State University Long Beach, and a BA degree from Loyola University New Orleans. He is a proud Trekkie, ice cream lover, and enjoys really bad reality tv.